

12 September 2015

Adani to expand capacity of Udupi power plant

After acquiring Udupi Power Corporation from Lanco Infratech in April, Adani Group is now set to expand the plant's capacity by 1600 MW, which is estimated to cost over ₹9,000 crore. According to a notification by the Expert Appraisal Committee (EAC) under the Ministry of Environment and Forests, the UPC - now a subsidiary of Adani Power - sought permission to expand the existing 1200 MW imported coal-based Thermal Power project to 2800 MW by addition of 1600 MW (2X800 MW super-critical units in Phase-2).