

Poland proposes to set up coking coal plant in India

Wednesday, 17 Feb 2016

Poland has proposed to set up a 2.7 mln tpa coking coal plant in India. It has also offered to share its expertise in exploration of copper and silver with Indian companies.

The country has also expressed interest in mutual collaboration in the area of mining and mineral exploration. Polish companies like KGHM have expertise in exploration of copper and silver which can be shared with Indian companies.